New York, Jan. 17.—The American line steamer St. Louis of which news has been anxiously awaited since Monday, and which was sighted off Nantucket last evening, reached her pier at noon. She had been delayed the greater part of the week by leaking boilers, but there has been no further trouble and no accidents, and she had declined assistance from at least one passing steamer.

YOUTSEY STILL CONFESSING.

Frankfort, Jan. 17.—For the seventh day Henry E. Youtsey was this morning taken to grand jury room by Warden Lillard, where he resumed his testimony behind closed doors. The jury has not made a report on the investigation of yesterday's sensation. It is not known when Youtsey will complete his testimony.

TEACHERS CLEARED

The Grievance Committee of the School Board Investigates

Evidence Was Heard Yesterday at the High School Building.

TRUSTEE WEILLE TO BLAME

It is probable from statements of those in a position to know, that all public school teachers will be exonerated in the investigation of the grievance committee of the board of education of the allegations that certain teachers encouraged the children to stay away or go home, on December 24, Christmas eve.

It is hinted that any censure that results from the official investigation yesterday afternoon will be directed at Trustee Ben Weille, who advocated giving the pupils a holiday Christmas eve and upon being defeated publicly encouraged a "strike." Trustee Weille seems only to eager to have the blame fixed on himself, and when it comes up in the board, if he doesn't make it warm for some of the other members, he will surprise those familiar with his perpetual motion oratory ability.

The members of the grievance committee, Trustees Joe Mattison, Henry Mammen and Sam Jackson, and Secretary Arch Sutherland, composed the committee, and first visited the principals of the schools in order to learn the attendance in the various rooms.

They next went to the board of education room at the Washington school on West Broadway, and began the investigation. There were no specific charges against anyone, but some of the teachers who considered themselves virtually accused are not at all pleased with the manner in which the investigation was conducted. They claim that the pupils were taken from the rooms and examined secretly and that the teachers under suspicion were not allowed to be confronted by anyone or hear the evidence, were not notified that the investigation was to be held nor allowed to introduce any evidence to show that they were wrongfully suspected. The board did not have to show them this courtesy, but might have done it as a matter of fairness.

The committee today would not state the result of its investigation, although the teachers wanted to know the result at once, and claim they were entitled to know it without delay, and to have the result made public, after the agitation of the matter that has ensued in the papers, but it was given out that no formal report would be made until the board holds its regular meeting in February. It was learned, however, from reliable authority that the members found that no teacher had agitated any strike.

NEW OFFICE

NIGHT WEIGHMASTER APPOINTED FOR THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

Mr. Frank Millard, of Central City arrived in the city yesterday to accept the position of night weighmaster in the local I. C. train yards. This is a new office just created. Formerly the engine foreman did the weighing at night but this did not give satisfaction and the company deemed it best to put in a regular man. Mr. Harry Owen is the day weighmaster.

CIRCUIT COURT

There was little done in circuit court today and court adjourned at noon to convene again Monday morning. The case of Henry Billings against the Paducah Furniture Mfg. Co. was on trial at adjournment, only part of the evidence having been heard. In the case of Columbia Finance and Trust Co. against John Van Culin, a judgment for sale of property was filed for the plaintiff.

In the case of J. A. Meshe against F. R. Giesberger Mill Co., the plaintiff filed reasons and motion for a new trial.

The condition of Mr. John Carroll at the city hospital is no better today.

MR. DURRETT IS ELECTED

Board of Aldermen This Morning Broke The Deadlock.

Mr. T. J. Atkins Could Not Serve and Was Allowed to Name the President.

The aldermanic deadlock is now ended and Mr. Lucien Durrett is president of the board. The board met last night at the city hall and again today. Last evening Alderman Singleton resigned, and Mr. T. J. Atkins was appointed in his place with the consent of the four Republican members, who had no objection to Mr. Atkins, and agreed to elect him president of the board if Mayor Yeiser would appoint him. He was appointed and agreed to serve, but it appears learned in the meantime that he could not be both a member of the board of aldermen and county treasurer, and he preferred the latter office, which he has held for many years.

Alderman Singleton, who claimed his resignation was conditional, was on hand again this morning to take back his job, and went to work just the same as if he hadn't resigned last night.

It was agreed by the aldermen, finally this morning, that Mr. Atkins be allowed to name the man to serve as president of the board, all to vote for him, and when Mr. Atkins selected Mr. Durrett, the latter received every Republican vote, and the deadlock was broken.

MR. DURRETT ELECTED.

The aldermanic board met in adjourned session at 10 o'clock this morning and after some little wrangling succeeded in electing Mr. Lucien E. Durrett, one of the Democratic members, president.

The meeting was called to order by Clerk William Patterson, and Alderman Singleton arose and stated briefly that he had resigned his position on condition that Mr. T. J. Atkins be appointed to his place and, after being duly sworn in, to be elected president of the board.

Mr. Atkins arose and stated that while he would like the best in the world to help the board out in its dilemma, he could not act as an alderman on account of holding a county office, that of county treasurer, which rendered him ineligible to the office of alderman.

Nominations for president were then declared in order and the first ballot resulted in the following vote: Singleton 1, Starks 3, Chamblin 1 and Riglesberger 1.

Alderman Singleton here stated that he would step down and out of the board if the other members would take R. G. Caldwell in his place and elect him chairman, but this proposition was declined. The voting was resumed and the next ballot resulted as follows: Chamblin 3, Durrett 4

HE WAS SAND BAGGED

Watchman Walter Sullivan Robbed at the Iron Furnace.

Struck Evidently By a Sand Bag and Remained Unconscious for Three Hours.

WAS RELIEVED OF $17

Mr. C. Walter Sullivan, of 620 South Sixth street, watchman at the iron furnace at Third and Norton, was the victim of murderous robbery about 3 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Sullivan, who is 23 years old and has been watchman at the furnace for the past several months, is in the habit of going home about 6 o'clock in the morning, after watching at the furnace all night. This morning when he failed to show up on time his mother and sister became alarmed, and finally, about 8 o'clock his sister, Mrs. W. F. Johnston, started to look for him.

She met him near Third and Adams. He was dazed and talked in an incoherent manner. She assisted him home, and when put to bed he soon recovered sufficiently to say that he had been knocked down and robbed by two men near the coke pile in the iron furnace yards.

According to his story he was making his rounds about 3 o'clock a. m. when he was suddenly assaulted by two men who appeared to be negroes. He was struck in the back of the head, rendered unconscious and robbed of $17.

He claims that he was left by his assailants and was unconscious until early this morning, when he recovered sufficiently to make a report at the office and go home.

The wound on his head seems to have been made with a sandbag, as there was no blood. The iron furnace people know nothing about the robbery except what was reported to them, and say that Mr. Sullivan is a quiet, sober young man.

Mr. Sullivan was resting well today and may be able to resume work tonight. He could not identify the men if they were caught as he could not see them in the dark.

HOPKINS RELEASED

IT REQUIRED TWO BOATS TO DO IT, HOWEVER.

The Dick Fowler, which went up to Rose Clair, Ill., yesterday morning to assist the John S. Hopkins off the bank, returned yesterday afternoon and went to Cairo, making the round trip in ten hours, reaching Paducah at 2 o'clock this morning.

She found the Hopkins hard stuck on the soft ice which had been left on the bank by the receding river. The Dick pulled and tugged, but could not budge the other boat, and finally the big towboat Exporter, lying about a mile away, and which had up fires to clean boilers, was summoned and the towboat and Dick Fowler soon released the Evansville packet.

HE GAVE BOND

FULTON ATTORNEY ARRESTED ON FEDERAL INDICTMENT.

Attorney Charles Payne, of Fulton, was brought to the city yesterday afternoon by Deputy U. S. Marshal G. W. Saunders and required to execute a $100 bond before U. S. Commissioner Gardner for his appearance at the April term of Federal court and answer to an indictment found against him at the November term charging him with obstructing the mails.

It seems that Thomas Laws, who handles the mail, was pushing a truck containing the mail when he ran into Payne, who knocked him down. Payne is assistant claim agent at Fulton for the Illinois Central.

WAS 110 YEARS OLD.

Hopkinsville, Jan. 17.—Lucy Breathitt, colored, died near the city, aged 110 years. She was born in Richmond, Va., and was the oldest person in Christian county.

Mr. Ed L. Atkins is reported better today.

DREAM CAME TRUE

New York Woman Dreamed Her Husband Was Dead.

She Awoke to Find Him a Corpse—Expected Money on the Steam—er St. Louis.

GRIEVED OVER THE DELAY

New York, Jan. 17.—Mrs. Theodore Borcholt, of East 102d street, was awakened by a horrible nightmare yesterday. She had dreamed that her husband was dead. Reaching over to where he lay she found him cold and lifeless. He had taken laudanum when he went to bed.

Borcholt, who was 70 years old, resigned his position with the General Electric Co. some time ago, expecting every day to receive from Europe several thousand dollars as his inheritance from the estate of a rich relative who had recently died. Remittance was delayed repeatedly, and Borcholt spent his savings for living expenses. Finally he was compelled to borrow. In December he was notified that $3,000 would be remitted on the steamship St. Louis, sailing the first week in January.

When news came that the St. Louis was overdue, he worried. He purchased the latest editions of the newspapers and repeatedly said he thought his money was lost with the ship. A few hours after his death the St. Louis was sighted.

IN POLICE COURT.

ALL THE OFFENDERS TODAY WERE COLORED.

Judge Sanders held a brief session of police court this morning and all offenders brought before him for trial were colored.

Lincoln Hatchee was fined $10 and costs for being drunk and disorderly.

Alice Perkins was fined $10 and costs for using insulting language towards Bettie Hagerdon, white.

Jessie Barnhill was fined $50 for presenting a pistol at Sterling Fitzgerald.

No action was taken against Jim Lewis, the negro arrested yesterday for the alleged robbery of Terry Coleman, the motorman, last Saturday night. The case was continued until Monday morning.

Arthur Crawford, who struck Young Marshal yesterday morning at the Schultz saloon, was fined $5 and costs.

Five hogs which had been impounded were ordered sold.

RELEASED FROM JAIL

ED RAY'S LIBERTY WAS VERY BRIEF, HOWEVER.

Will Parrott, Ed Ray and John Saxton, colored, and Res Dick, white, who have been serving sixty day terms in the county jail for illicit whiskey selling, were released this morning, having taken the insolvent debtor's oath before Commissioner Armour Gardner. Ray was immediately arrested by the sheriff of Calloway county, who was here for that purpose. Ray is wanted for an old charge of illicit whiskey selling and also on a charge of jail breaking, having broken out of the Murray jail with sixty days of a term yet to be served.

WEEK'S NEWS IN THE BUSINESS WORLD.

Bank clearings for week $672,128.05 Same week last year 597,116.00 Increase 75,012.05

Business the past week shows a good increase over that of the corresponding week last year.

Trade has picked up encouragingly after the holiday rush, and both wholesalers and retailers report good business. Orders are coming in rapidly to the wholesalers, with prospects of improved conditions for both wholesalers and retailers.

Mr. G. Robert Moss returned from Mayfield, this morning.

Theatrical Notes.

Coming attractions at The Kentucky:

Tuesday night—Jeff De Angelis Opera company in "Emerald Isle."

Friday night—"A Royal Slave."

Saturday matinee and night—"The Silver Dagger."

Monday night, January 26—"The Belle of New York."

Friday night, January 30—Mrs. Le-moyne.

The Ft. Wayne, Ind., Times says: "The patrons of the Sorg last night witnessed Gordon and Bennett's production of 'A Royal Slave.' The piece is melodramatic and combines the elements of a good cast and scenery true in every detail to the environments of the play. The scenery is attractive and depicts the wild and romantic country of the Montezumas in Mexico, where the plot of the piece is laid. From the first to the last curtain the chain of events holds the interest of the spectators in a manner complimentary to 'A Royal Slave's' successful production on a return date."

The chief satirization of "The Emerald Isle," Sir Arthur Sullivan's opera to be seen here at The Kentucky Tuesday night, concerns a fictitious lord lieutenant of England. This official, to curry favor with his superiors and humor himself, affects the blank verse manner of speech in vogue in other periods of English history. His spouse is saturated with the same fad, and his doctor is another member, albeit an involuntary one, of the same whimsical practice. The trio form a very humorous and utterly absurd element of the opera's travesty types. The Irish themselves are treated almost without satirization by the librettist.

The musical comedy event of the current season is announced at The Kentucky for Monday, January 26, when "The Belle of New York" will play an engagement at this popular playhouse. This excellent play is a most seasonable offering. The company to appear here is on its sixth triumphal tour of America, and it has toured England and Australia. In many respects it is the best organization ever sent from the New York Casino, inasmuch as it is made up of a combination of the best from both the London and New York companies. Mr. Max Bloom as the polite lunatic is an exceptionally clever eccentric character comedian. Miss Charlotte Uart will be seen as the statuesque and beautiful Cora Angelique.

Edward German, who aided Sir Arthur Sullivan in composing "The Emerald Isle," to be presented in this city at The Kentucky Tuesday night by the Jefferson De Angelis Opera company, is the composer of the famous Shakespearean music incidental to the productions by Sir Henry Irving, notably Sir Henry's "Richard III." and "Henry VIII." Mr. German's numbers in "The Emerald Isle" are so much like Sir Arthur's compositions that no one not fully posted is able to tell which is Sir Arthur's work and which the work of the younger composer.

Clarence Bennett, who is starring in the title role of "A Royal Slave," is a rare combination of dramatic qualities. He combines melodramatic power with a high order of poetic and romantic finish. Mr. Bennett's early schooling in Edwin Booth's company stands him in good stead now and largely accounts for those graceful master-touches and that height of art, which is to conceal art. This is the badge of a great actor.

Mrs. Herbert L. Flint is the only successful lady hypnotist in America. This young lady is one of the most remarkable persons ever before the public. She is a perfect master of the hypnotic science in all its details. Given a class upon the stage, she will make them obey her slightest command. If told to go into the audience and peddle fish they start on the expedition at once, and they peddle fish in earnest. They will follow every suggestion that she makes. While the exhibition is in some respects highly ludicrous, it is at the same time most instructive, for it shows what latent powers there are in hypnotism. No comedy can be more entertaining than these nightly exhibitions of the Flints. She, with her husband, Dr. Flint, have rightly earned their title of the "Fun Makers."

"The White Slave" was presented to a small audience at The Kentucky last night by a very capable company. The characters were all well cast, and the performance was enjoyed very much.

"The Silver Dagger," which comes to The Kentucky next Saturday for matinee and night, is making a great hit in Cincinnati this week.

Mrs. Brune has been booked for February 18. She has entirely recovered from her recent illness and has resumed her tour.

Mr. Ben F. Dodson, in advance of the "Belle of New York" company, was at the Palmer today.

THE ST. LOUIS SAFE

MESSRS. KOLB RECEIVE A TELEGRAM FROM NEW YORK TODAY.

The Messrs. Kolb of the city last night received a telegram from New York stating that the American liner St. Louis, which was overdue several days, and it was feared lost, had been sighted and was safe.

Two cousins of the Messrs. Kolb were aboard the steamer, Messrs. George and Fred Kolb of New York, who travel for the Bortsett Brothers company, an importing firm. They have been through Europe on business and much anxiety was experienced among their relatives as to their safety, and several telegrams had been sent from here to New York inquiring for news of the missing vessel.

Richards was eccentric. He worked for the Union Metallic Cartridge Co. for over thirty years.

One of the bank books had not been written up in over a score of years, and there was $1,200 interest due on the deposit.

They claimed to be returning to Indiana from a tour that had taken them many miles in their buggy. They estimated the total distance covered with only a horse and buggy to be five hundred miles.

HICKMAN COURT HOUSE.

Peirce Cequin and Co., the Fulton contractors, were awarded the contract for building the new court house to be erected at Hickman, their bid of $20,790 being the lowest among several firms. ### FROM BROOKPORT

AN IMPORTANT SUIT INVOLVING SALOONS SETTLED THERE.

Brookport, Ill., Jan. 17.—In the suit of Mrs. Wm. Dugger against Barringer and Sanson, saloon keepers, for selling her husband, a habitual drunkard, intoxicating drinks after she had forbidden them, the rulings of the court were that the property in which the saloon was located stood good for the damage thus throwing the cost, something over $300, on D. C. Lynn the owner of the building.

Editor G. Lay Wolfe of the Lerna Eagle, former editor of the Brookport Eagle, is visiting friends in the city.

The teachers and pupils of the High school met and organized a debating and literary club.

Mrs. Abe Henderson of Jopka, Ill., is visiting relatives here this week.

MYSTERIOUS SIGN

MAY LEAD TO THE IDENTITY OF CHICAGO MURDERER.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—The sign of the "A," whatever it means, may lead to the arrest of the men who caused the death of the men whose body was found in Jackson park Tuesday night. Scratched in the snow near where the body of the "supposed Italian" was found was a letter "A," followed by a dash, and the police believe it may be the avenging mark of some society, whose agents laid in wait for the unknown, bent on his death.

The thirteen knife wounds on the body were inflicted by at least two different weapons—a stiletto and a long knife. The police have thus far been unable to identify the body.

Scores of Italians have been taken to the morgue in the hope that some one might admit knowing the dead man, but all professed ignorance of his identity. The oath of the Mafia forbids members to seek redress in courts or to give evidence before them and in other cases with which the police have dealt this law of the Mafia has been difficult to overcome.

COUNTY ROADS

THE THAW HAS MADE THEM VERY BAD IN MANY PLACES.

County Road Supervisor Bert Johnson came in from the county this morning and reports the roads in as good condition as could be expected for this season, although the thaw has made them very bad in many places.

The work on the bridge at Ware's branch has progressed rapidly, and will be finished in three more days if the weather is so the men can work.

Captain Frank M. Dougherty of Louisville, has received notice from Washington that he successfully passed the civil service examination for steam boat inspector. Captain Dougherty is an applicant for the position at Evansville now filled temporarily in the absence of any names on the eligible list.

OWENSBORO GETS IT.

Louisville, Jan. 17.—The next state fair will be held at Owensboro. There was pledged by that place $17,000, while Louisville pledged only $10,000.

MRS. MAY DOHSE, CHICAGO, ILL. CONDUCTRESS (President) of the Marys of the Lake, Catholic Order of Foresters.

10 Chestnut Place, Chicago, Ill., March 12, 1902.

I have for years heard good things of your Wine of Cardui, but never really knew how excellent a remedy it is, until last fall when I became suddenly chilled when I was out and not clad warm enough. Unfortunately it happened at a time when every woman should use extra precaution against colds. As a consequence the functions of Nature stopped and although I thought little of it at the time I soon found that it was much more serious than I had anticipated. I did not seek medical assistance until over a month had passed and I had found no relief. I had terrible cramps and pains, intense backache and dizzy spells. The doctor said inflammation had set in and prescribed for me. But nothing seemed to help me. Reading your Almanac I soon became interested in Wine of Cardui. I then remembered hearing some of my lady friends telling how grand it was. I then dismissed my doctor and decided to try Wine of Cardui. I took it for three weeks and to my great joy I found relief. Gradually the inflammation passed away. I became once more regular and suffered no more pains, whatever. I am sure there are hundreds of women who are daily suffering as I did, who do not know which way to turn for relief. To these I would say: "Stop paying doctors' bills and taking medicine you know nothing of; stop letting the doctors experiment on you. Half of them don't know what really ails their patients. Stop wasting your strength and your money and take Wine of Cardui. After you have taken one bottle of Wine of Cardui you will feel so much better and you are sure to be cured if human skill can cure. It is cheap to make the experiment anyhow and take my word for it, you will not regret it." I am glad to give you this unsolicited testimonial, glad to do my little to show my appreciation and only hope it may be the means of advising some poor suffering women, and may help them from daily misery to health and happiness.

May Dohse

So delicately poised are the organs of womanhood that even slight neglect and exposure result in serious trouble. Few women regard first menstrual irregularities serious enough to require medical attention. Consequently from little irregularities serious troubles grow. Women are usually too modest to tell these troubles to a doctor. Wine of Cardui can be taken in the privacy of your home. If your trouble is just beginning you have no excuse not to take this remedy today. It is easy to take and there is no publicity in the treatment. If your case has been long running and doctors cannot help you, read what Mrs. Dohse says and remember that thousands of so-called "hopeless" cases have been cured by Wine of Cardui. Wine of Cardui will completely cure nine out of ten cases and it will benefit every case of female troubles.

The Week In Society.

AFTER ALL.

The new woman is brilliant I grant. Fairly logical, too. For her views have been taken from Kant. With a rendering almost new. She feels a prophetic borne on the tide. Of an ocean of culture, broad and wide. She has been historian, philosopher, scientist, poet. With just enough knowledge to be able to show it; Yet take up her views in their different phases. Which is the knowledge that mere man praises? —Annie G. Murray, in the Club Woman.

SOCIETY IN MOTION.

The week has been quite gay enough to satisfy the demands of the most exacting. There were only four entertainments in one day, but that was an unusual record, though there have been a number of very "smart" affairs. There has been some informal entertaining, too, that has not been recorded. The "entre nous" party has been in evidence, the sort that is "strictly between you and me" and is not for the society reporter's ear, you know. Well, he knows it all anyway and is only sorry that he can not tell the public all about it, for some of them have been very pleasant affairs, really nothing to be ashamed of, and with a creditable guest list and it seems aptly to have them "born to blush unseen and waste their sweetness on the desert air," a party to fame unknown. The "Surprise (?) party" is still a fad of society this week. They are large and enthusiastic storm parties, and have been described as a "hold-up" by one's friends and are proving very taking.

Gay as it has been this week, Society is more in training for the one to come, which might be characterized as "Paducah's Reception Week." A bright and prominent society woman who is decidedly in the swim, cleverly sums it up thusly: "I expect to rise on Monday morning, don my party costume, take my powder rag in my hand, and never stop." And really there is little time being allowed for any change of costume between acts, so you had better do likewise.

FOURNOY RECEPTION AND EVENING PARTY

The Flournoy home on Harrison street was the scene of two pretty entertainments on Friday. From 3 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon Mrs. Carrie Flournoy and her daughters, Mrs. E.E. Ellis and Miss Mary Flournoy received their friends in honor of the bride in the family, Mrs. David M. Flournoy and her sister, Miss Julia Baxter Jones of Cartersville, Ga. The dominant color in the decorations were pink and the effect was very charming. The receiving party stood in the front parlor which was attractively decorated with gorgeous pink chrysanthemums, and included: Mesdames Carrie Flournoy, David Flournoy, E.E. Ellis, Denis Mocoquot, Miss Mary Flournoy and Miss Julia Jones.

Mrs. David Flournoy wore her bridal dress, a charming creation of white point lace over white satin.

Miss Jones' costume was embroidered white chiffon over white taffeta, a pretty gown worn as maid of honor at her sister's wedding.

Mrs. Denis Mocoquot, another recent bride, wore her elegant wedding dress of white crepe de chene over satin.

Mrs. J.O. Flournoy and Miss Dow Husbands ushered the guests into the dining room.

In this room the pink color effect was emphasized. The table had in the center an elegant lace center piece with a cut glass vase of pink carnations. The silver candelabra had pink candles and shades, and around the edge of the table were laid fern leaves. Mrs. George Flournoy, Mrs. Lloyd Boswell, Mrs. Lillard Sanders and Miss McGlathery presided here very gracefully, and an attractive luncheon was served.

In the hall delightful fruit punch was served by Miss Carline Sowell and Miss Susanne Jorgenson of Princeton. The arrangement of the invitations, some being issued from 3 to 4, and others invited from 4 to 5, added to the pleasure of the afternoon, as the crowd was evenly divided and a crush at any time was avoided.

In the evening Mr. and Mrs. David Flournoy entertained the younger people in compliment to Miss Julia Baxter Jones. A number were present and a "proposal party" was a feature of the evening. The occasion was very enjoyable.

A KENTUCKY GIRL TO WED ROSEBERRY.

The marriage of Lord Roseberry to the noted American beauty and fascinating widow, Mrs. Samuel Chauncey, is agitating all Mayfair, says the London dispatches.

Lord Roseberry has long been regarded as a confirmed widower, although not at all indifferent to the charms of women. His son, Lord Dalmeny, has just celebrated his majority. Mrs. Chauncey is the sister of Lord Newborough's wife, and her London home is 40 Harford street, near Park Lane, in the heart of fashionable Mayfair. She entertains elaborately, and is a member of the most prominent set in London, where royalty is not infrequently met.

Mrs. Chauncey is noted as being one of the best gowned women in society, and her dinners and luncheons are always paragraphed in the society columns. She resides part of the year on an estate near Cannes, France.

The fact that Mrs. Chauncey was a Kentucky girl, living in Louisville before her marriage, although born in Indiana, lends an additional interest to the romance.

"Twelve years ago all Louisville knew the beautiful Carr girls. Their father, Col. Carr, had died, leaving but a few thousand dollars in insurance. The family then lived on Jefferson street, below Twenty-second. At the death of Col. Carr his widow, instead of investing her money in a small way, bought elaborate wardrobes for her daughters and started on a tour of the big watering places. Within a short time thereafter Miss Alice Carr, the elder sister, had married Mr. Samuel Sloane Chauncey, a New York millionaire. After that marriage her mother and sister, Miss Grace, lived very modestly until Mr. Chauncey died. The widow then took her mother and sister with her to Europe. They lived part of the time in England and the rest of the time on an estate near Cannes, France.

"A little over a year ago Miss Grace Carr married Lord Newborough, a wealthy nobleman. Through this marriage Mrs. Chauncey gained admittance to the best circles of English society and met Lord Roseberry."

MISS ALINE BAGBY'S SUCCESS.

The host of friends here of Miss Aline Bagby will be interested in learning that last week she stood her entrance examination most successfully, and on Wednesday became a regular member of the "American Academy of Dramatic Arts." She was examined by Mr. Stephenson, the manager of the academy and of the Empire theater, who is pronounced the most competent dramatic critic in America. "Paola and Francesca" and "Jack the Giant-killer" were given by Miss Bagby in a way to win much honest commendation from the great man.

Mr. Stephenson considers that Miss Bagby has the true dramatic spirit, that which can no more help acting some day than one can help living. Her emotional power would be specially great, as was evidenced throughout her work, and prophesied a success limited only by her ambitions and desires.

This meed of praise will not surprise Miss Bagby's friends here, who have felt unbounded confidence in the recognition of her talent all along. She has exhibited a rare tenacity of purpose and supreme self-denial for one so young, and has studied only nine and a half hours a day since going to New York, with an interest and enthusiasm that recognizes no obstacles as insurmountable.

Miss Bagby and Miss Phil Pointer of Owensboro, Ky., who is, also, in New York this winter, were recently brought together by friends as Kentucky girls, not knowing that they had met in Paducah. The meeting was very delightful to both.

A CHARMING RECEPTION.

Mrs. A. B. Sowell and the Misses Sowell received on Thursday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock at their home on West Broadway in especial compliment to Mrs. David M. Flournoy and Miss Fannie Taylor of Kansas City, Mo. The house was a bower of palms and ferns and looked most effective.

Mrs. George Flournoy and Mrs. David Sanders welcomed the guests in the reception hall.

In the drawingroom were Mrs. Sowell, Miss Taylor, Miss Sowell, Miss Carline Sowell, Mrs. David Flournoy, Mrs. George Thompson and Mrs. John G. Brooks, the receiving party proper. Mrs. C.E. Whitesides, Mrs. Warwick Cowgill, Mrs. Victor Voris, Mrs. L.A. Washington, Mrs. George C. Wallace, Mrs. Edward Vaughan, Miss Minnie Ratcliffe, and Miss Corrie Grundy did the honors in the back parlor.

Mrs. Elizabeth Austin, Mrs. Milton Cope and Mrs. J. H. Porter ushered the guests into the dining room, which was a charming symphony in red. The table with a white organdie cover over red red carnations for the center piece, silver candelabra with red candles and shades, was a brilliant picture. Mrs. Laura Fowler and Mrs. May Rieke presided at each end of the table, serving coffee and chocolate, and were assisted by Misses Mabel Rieke, Hallie Hisey, Evelyn Walker, Maude Atkins of Dyersburg, Tenn.; Laura Sanders, Ruth Weil, Minnie Terrell and Martha Davis. A delightful course-luncheon was served, the punch and peppermints emphasizing the red effect most artistically.

CHARITY CLUB'S TEA.

A notably successful and pretty affair was the initial afternoon tea of the Charity club on Monday from 3 to 5 o'clock. The charming home of Mrs. Victor Voris on West Broadway lent itself readily as an effective background to the picturesque scene, and the popularity of the hostess and the club members insured a large crowd. A number of gentlemen called late and added variety and interest to the occasion. The callers entering were graciously welcomed by Miss Martha Davis and Miss Laura Sanders in the hall; here an orchestra played rag-time music during the afternoon.

In the pretty parlor Mrs. Voris, Miss Emma Reed and Mrs. Cook Husbands were stationed. Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells, Mrs. George B. Hart, Miss Mae Paxton, Miss Elizabeth Sinnott, Miss Julia Scott, Miss Martha Leech and Miss Anna Mae Yeiser did the honors in the Red Room. In an attractive Japanese corner candy was sold by Miss Myrtle Decker, Miss Carline Sowell, Miss Henrietta Koger and Miss Mabel Rieke.

In the dining room the samovar of Russian tea was presided over by Mrs. John P. Campbell, and the guests were charmingly served with tea and wafers by Miss Florence Yeiser, Miss Lula Reed and Miss Clara Thompson.

The occasion was delightfully informal and established the afternoon teas of the Charity club as "something worth while" for society all winter. The goodly sum of $30 was realized for the charity fund on Monday afternoon.

MRS. ROBB'S CARD PARTY.

A pretty card party was given by Mrs. Will Robb on Wednesday afternoon at her home at Fifth and Court streets. The house was attractively decorated, pink and white being the color-motif. Dainty souvenirs of pink and white carnations were presented each guest. The first prize was won by Mrs. Harris Rankin. The lone hand prize was captured by Miss Mabel Rieke. The consolation prize was awarded to Miss Emily Morrow.

An elaborate course luncheon was served after the game, emphasizing the pink and white idea.

The guests included: Mesdames L. W. Emery, Kate Wilson, C. E. Lining, R. G. Terrell, Charles K. Wheeler, Lillard Sanders, Henry Thompson, May Rieke, Leslie Soule, Milton G. Cope, Joseph Gardner, Harry McElwee, Minnie Rankin, Marvin Quick, Harris Rankin, Wynne Tully, Ben Weille, Sallie Morrow, Will Clark; Misses Corrie Grundy, Minnie Ratcliffe, Faith Langstaff, Mabel Rieke, Mildred Terrell, Myra DuBois, May Orme, Mary Brazelton, Ada Thompson, Clara Thompson, Martha Davis, Hallie Hisey, Polly Ferriman, Emily Morrow.

ENJOYABLE STORM PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Leech were "stormed" on Friday evening at their pretty home on Madison street, and a most pleasant evening was enjoyed. Eight-handed euchre and finch were played. The gentleman's prize was won by Mr. Will Reike, and the ladies prize by Mrs. Max Nahn, of Bowling Green. Mrs. Urey Woodson, of Owensboro, received the booby prize. A Dutch lunch was served late and a general good time was the order of the evening.

The party included Mr. and Mrs. Urey Woodson, of Owensboro, Messrs. and Mesdames John Keiler, Cook Husbands, O.L. Gregory, George Wallace, I.D. Wilcox, Dr. and Mrs. Victor Voris, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Boyd, Mrs. Baxter Pace of Louisville, Mesdames Max Nahn, of Bowling Green, W. A. Gardner, John P. Campbell, Misses Myrtle Roper of Golconda, Elizabeth Sinnott, Martha Leech, Carrie Rieke, Emma Reed, Mattie Fowler, Martha Davis, Messrs. Cunningham of Clarksville, Charles Reed, Will Rieke, Abram Weil, Wallace Weil and Dr. J.Q. Taylor.

A pretty wedding of the week was that of Miss Susan Jones and Mr. James Porter Sleeth which took place on Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreen and potted plants, and was crowded with the friends of the popular young couple. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. W.E. Cave, D. D., and Prof. Harry Gilbert was at the organ. The bridal couple were preceded to the altar by the ushers: Mr. Joseph Sinnott and Mr. Oscar Hank, Mr. Louis Rieke, Jr. and Mr. Richard Scott, Dr. John Oehlschlaeger and Dr. Edward Pettit.

The bride looked very handsome in a tailor gown of oyster with hat to match and carried violets.

The couple left on the 7:05 train for New Orleans, Fort Tampa and Cuba, and on their return will be at home at the Sleeth residence on South Sixth street.

SANS SOUCI CLUB.

Mrs. William Gilbert entertained the Sans Souci club and other guests very charmingly at her home on North Eighth street on Wednesday afternoon. Cards were played and the first prize was won by Mrs. Clara Burnett. The consolation prize was secured by Mrs. Edward Vaughan. A delightful course luncheon was served after the game.

Mrs. Gilbert's guests were: Mesdames Warwick M. Cowgill, J. W. Pulliam, David Van Culin, Thomas C. Leech, David Sanders, Edward Vaughan, Clara Burnett; Misses Graham of Tennessee, Julia Merritt of Baltimore, Fannie Taylor of Kansas City, Susan Polk Temple, Lulu Beed, Florence Yeiser, Anne Boswell, Mary Boswell, Anna May Yeiser, Nell Paxton, Ruth Weil, Laura Sanders, Margie Crumbaugh, Lucie Robiou, Sallie Husbands, Henrietta Koger.

MAGAZINE CLUB.

Mrs. George Flournoy was the hostess of the Magazine club on Wednesday afternoon. Several interesting reports were made from the leading magazines. Miss Helen Lowry gave a resume of "Landscapes in Literature," from Littell's Living Age, and Mrs. John Campbell told entertainingly of "Real Characters in Fiction," from the same magazine. The Century was represented by Miss Elizabeth Sinnott, who gave a graphic sketch of "Salvini." "The Spirit of Christmas" was vivaciously given by Miss Caroline Robiou, who is on the Forum. A charming course luncheon was served at the conclusion of the reports in Mrs. Flournoy's usual attractive style.

The next regular meeting of the club will be on Thursday, January 29, with Miss Julia Scott.

WHIST CLUB ENTERTAINED.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wallerstein entertained the Whist club most pleasantly at their hospitable home on North Seventh street on Wednesday evening. The ladies' prize was won by Mrs. Jeanette Weille and the gentlemen's prize by Mr. H. Wallerstein. A delightful lunch varied the evening's pleasure.

Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames Jacob Wallerstein, M. Schwab, Adolph Weil; Mesdames David Levy of St. Louis Jeanette Weille, Henry Weil, E. B. Schwartz-enborger; Messrs. Charles Weille, James Greenbaum.

COMPLIMENTARY TO VISITOR.

Miss Ina Dunn entertained a limited number of her friends very pleasantly on Tuesday evening at her home on South Fourth street in compliment to Miss Fannie Jones of Henderson. The evening was most enjoyably spent with games and music, and delightful refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses Goldie Spore, Lillian Garrett, Mae Moss, Fannie Jones of Henderson; Messrs. Sam Washington, Earl Dunn, Lee Garrett, John Wilkins, Hugh Garrett.

CHANGED HIS BELIEF

HIS TEACHINGS DIDN'T APPLY IN HIS OWN CASE.

Rockport, Ky., Jan. 17.—Granville Brown, a farmer who lives five miles north of here, was bitten by a mad dog, and, as he could obtain no relief here, he went to Louisville to consult a specialist.

Mr. Brown is a member of a religious sect who do not believe in doctors or medicine, but heal their sick by anointing and "laying on of hands." However, he lays aside his belief in this case.

—Mr. W. R. Herbert has been appointed trainmaster of terminals for the Illinois Central at Memphis, succeeding J. W. Humphreys, transferred to the passenger department.

Bowed to the Badge. A young man just out of the High school and now engaged in business in Manhattan boarded a Halsey street car at the Manhattan end of the Brooklyn bridge one evening recently after rush hours, when the car was not crowded. A pin, the insignia of membership in his High school fraternity, sparkled on his waistcoat. He walked half the length of his car to get a seat. Two Chinese laundrymen, on seeing the fraternity pin, left their seats, bowed almost to the ground before the chesty young man, to the astonishment of the passengers, and then reverently turning their eyes the other way grasped convenient straps. The ex-High school boy was unused to such homage and didn't know what to make of it. Finally he thought of his pin, and said to the Mongolians, "That's all right, my friends. We're not in China now." But the Chinese refused to sit down while he was in the car.—Brooklyn Times.

COULDN'T FIND THE MAN.

LIEUT. MOORE MAKES A PERILOUS ASCENT TO MILL.

Lieutenant T. J. Moore was last night about 12 o'clock notified by the engineer at the waterworks that a man was seen in one of the upper stories of the Three Rivers mill, across the street at First and Washington street, and when observed was standing in a window and struck a match.

The doors downstairs were all locked and Lieutenant Moore finally found the door in the second story open. He had to climb up the chute that leads to the river to the second floor, and the lieutenant says it was like going up a greasy pole.

He went inside with a dark lantern, but was unable to find anyone. There were hundreds of places, however, in which a man might have successfully hidden.

GAVE A DANCE

YOUNG PEOPLE ENTERTAINED LAST NIGHT NEAR HEATH.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Senwith of Heath, this county, who were married at Metropolis day before yesterday, were last night entertained by relatives of Mr. Senwith with a dance. There was a large crowd present to see the man who had reclaimed his sweetheart after she was announced to marry another next Tuesday, but it is understood that the young man who was jilted was not among the guests.

NO TIME SET.

Nothing definite has been settled relative to the meeting of the fire and police commissioners, as Mr. Pete Rogers, a member of the board, continues ill. Mr. Rogers will probably be able to be out within a few days and the meeting will then be arranged. The board will not meet unless the full membership is present.

YARDS COMPLETE.

Today the ballasting and track laying in the shop yards "will be finished and the yards will then be complete. The jacking track is still undergoing repairs, but this is not in the yards proper, but is an outside track.

Miss Cherie Morton left at noon for Louisville to visit.

EAT SLOW

MEANS CHEW FAST, FINE AND HARD, BUT SWALLOW SLOW.

"Across the table sat a young man," remarked an old gentleman from New Albany, Ind., recently, "with a sickly face, who was slowly chewing in a fashion which led me to believe that his teeth were all in such condition that if he should forget himself and bite a little bit harder, or would fly the top of his head. Finally I remarked:

"You have to be very careful of them?"

"Yes, indeed," he replied, "I have no stomach. My doctor told me to eat slow. 'No odds what your hurry may be,' said he, 'eat slow.'"

"You misunderstood him," said I. "What the doctor meant was to chew fast, fine and hard, but to swallow slowly. Now you are actually committing suicide; the doctor meant for you to use your teeth. Are your teeth all right?"

"Yes," he replied, "I can bite through sole leather. I wonder if the doctor did mean that I should chew hard instead of slow?"

"Then I told him of my experience in the food line. I'm a pretty old man now, but, like a good many other people, my stomach went back on me one time and I commenced to study food and the requirements of the body. After experimenting a good deal I came across Grape-Nuts and was soon convinced that this food met all the requirements of health and as a daily diet is indispensable.

"I am not a doctor, but it is easy to understand that the great change from my former condition to my present good health and ability, at the age of 67, to walk twenty-five miles a day, if so inclined, is due solely to Grape-Nuts and the proper nourishment my body has received from this valuable food.

"The crispness of Grape-Nuts gives the teeth sufficient action to keep them in good condition; its taste is delicious and the way it is prepared corrects any digestive trouble a person may have. I know my lease of life has been renewed for a term of years by its use." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

OFFICE CALENDARS.

A very serviceable calendar has been issued by the Chicago and Northwestern railway for the year 1903. The figures are large and easily distinguished, the days of the month and the consecutive day of the year are both shown; and the publication is of that solid and creditable sort which makes it desirable for business men and manufacturers. Send four cents in postage to W. B. Kniskern, Passenger Traffic Manager, 22 Fifth avenue, Chicago.

Humbugged

Don't be fooled by advertisements of women's shoes which are "super-elegant," "sculptured," "dainty," "architectural," and "statuesque."

Use a good, honest Saxon word and ask if they FIT!

There's the point! There's the rub! There is one shoe for women that has built itself up to the top-notch of popularity on FIT.

That shoe is the "Queen Quality."

If you want to see your foot look a full size smaller; — if you want to spare yourself half of your daily fatigue; — if you want to own shoes which will be a constant delight and last longer because they fit accurately, buy a single pair of "Queen Quality."

A million women say this! Comment is unnecessary.

LOW RATES TO SOUTHWEST.

On the first and third Tuesdays of each month the Cotton Belt Route will sell one way and round trip tickets at one half the regular rate plus $2 to points in Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, allowing stop over going, and return limit of 21 days.

This unusually low rate is made for the purpose of inducing immigration to the Great Southwest. It is believed by those who have made a study of conditions that no territory on the American continent offers equal opportunities for farming, stock raising, fruit and truck growing, or any of the multiplied industries that are building prosperous towns and cities.

To the person of limited means desiring a home, this section of country offers greater inducements than perhaps any place on earth. The fertility of soil, exceedingly low prices of land, mild, open winters, long growing seasons enabling two and three crops to be made off the same ground, combines a greater number of advantages than may be found elsewhere.

Any of the following literature descriptive of the country and its resources along the line of the Cotton Belt route will be sent free to any person upon application:

"Homes in the Southwest," "Glimpses of Southeast Missouri, Arkansas and N. W. Louisiana," "Through Texas with a Camera," "Fortunes in Growing Fruits and Vegetables," "The Diversier," a fruit and truck growers' journal.

THE REFORMER
By CHARLES M. SHELTON.
Author of "In His Steps," "Robert Hardy's Seven Days," etc.
Copyright, 1901, by Charles M. Sheldon

He put his head down and coughed
so long and violently that at the end of it John Gordon found himself on his knees by the side of his friend holding his head and now thoroughly alarmed.
"Why, this can't go on, David," he expostulated.

"Yes, it can apparently. At least it seems to go on quite easily."
"But you'll simply commit suicide
if you don't listen to reason and quit
all work for at least six months."
"Can't do it. Got too much at stake," Barton answered. He rose, and, going into an adjoining room, he took some medicine, bathed his face and came out looking so much better that John Gordon was amazed.

"Only a trifling little cough, John.
It's not on my lungs. Just a throat trouble. I got caught out in the rain down near Hope House the other night and didn't have a chance to steal an umbrella without getting caught again. Come in and let's have out the reform business. You can't let Harris' offer go by. It's too much of a chance."

"But I'm keeping you up too late,"
Gordon said doubtfully.
"Why, old man, haven't you sent your things over here to stay until you get married or something? Whose are those duds out in the hall?"

"They're mine, I expect. I sent them over this afternoon. The break had to come at home some time, and I knew you would take me in at any time."
"Sit down, then," said Barton, giving his friend a push into an easy chair.
He himself went over to a lounge and lay down on it, turning his pale, thin face, with its great, glowing eyes, toward John Gordon.

The grim death had already laid a long hand on Barton's chest, but with the stubborn cynicism of his character Barton refused to acknowledge any mastery, although, contrary to most victims of consumption, he knew and acknowledged himself that do what he would he could not shake that hand off.

John Gordon mournfully eyed the recent figure on the lounge.
"Forgive me, David. I have been so busy over my own plans that I have not thought of you. Why have you not let me know about—"

"Oh, let's talk of your matters. Mine can wait. Besides, don't you know it's not the thing to talk to sick people about their condition? Don't make me believe that I have anything. How about Harris' offer?"

"I have decided not to accept it," replied John Gordon quietly.
"That's plump. Say why."
John Gordon did not answer at once.
"I've already told you partly. Seeing Harris confirms my opinion concerning his insincerity. He simply wants to use the fact of my connection with Hope House to get a feature more or less sensational for the News."
"You didn't take to him very lovingly, did you?" Barton chuckled.
"I found myself in danger of hating him."

"Still, Harris has his good points.
He's the most egotistic man I ever knew, but with the exception of that,
and perhaps a dozen other remarkable faults, he's interesting. He's interesting," Barton repeated. "You're too particular, John. I don't see why you can't carry on the department and make things around Bowen street just hum for reform if you have the paper to help you. If you expect an angel to come along and give you a page of his daily to boost your reforms, you'll have to wait till angels are thicker in the newspaper business than they are now.
I don't know any myself. My acquaintance so far has been in the other direction."

"There's another reason I haven't given for refusing Harris." John Gordon spoke thoughtfully. "I want to know the people before I begin to talk or write about them. And I ought to spend at least ten years of my life in seeing, hearing, thinking, knowing, but not much in writing—not yet. Do you know what the bishop of London said awhile ago?"

"No; I don't know the bishop."
"He said: 'I have found that isolation of one class from another is the root of all social evils. Contact with the neglected people and the lapsed masses was the method of Christ's reclamation of the lost. It is the only method that can succeed now.' Isn't that quite remarkable for a bishop? I met him in London. He is the most all around Christian I ever saw. I wish they had a bishop like that here.
Now, you see I don't want to go into the newspaper business in the sensational way that Harris wants. I need to live among the people for a period, at least until I am able to talk and write with some sort of knowledge.
Harris' idea is to burst out with a page of denunciation and hysterical pictorial exposure of human conditions, partly for political reasons, but more especially to get the News before the public and do a big advertising business."

"You wrong Harris, even at his worst," said Barton decidedly. "I can't help thinking he's got some human kindness in him. He may be all egotism, but he's not all bad. There's the money offer. You haven't considered that."

John Gordon seemed troubled for a moment.
"Of course we shall need money for all the things we plan. Miss Andrews was wishing she might secure $5,000 for the new dormitory. She goes out and lectures every winter to make expenses."

"Yes. The city will kill her. It will kill her, I tell you!" cried out Barton in a genuine burst of rage.
"The world kills all its prophets and reformers in one way or another," said John Gordon sadly. "The blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church.
The very people that applaud Miss Andrews and say she is doing a grand work don't come to her rescue in any great numbers. And she is in sore need right now."

"Then why don't you let Harris
help?"
"He can help if he wants to. If he's sincere, he will do it without my going on the paper. I've made up my mind," Gordon hastily added as Barton made a gesture. "I think I can secure some money from men in the city."

"Let me know how much, so we can publish the amount, will you?" Barton said dryly.
John Gordon did not answer, and after quite a long silence Barton said suddenly:
"By the way, I suppose Miss Marsh will help you, of course. You'll be married and set up residence together in Hope House? How did you win her over to your extreme views?"

"I didn't. We are not going to be married. She refuses to go with me into Hope House. Oh, David, do you think that was a mistake?"
It all poured out at once, because all the evening John Gordon had been longing to confide in the one man in all the city whom he loved and trusted.
Everything they had been talking about so far had seemed in one sense of small importance compared with his heart's hunger for her, which had deepened with every moment's absence from her. His immediate resolve to go to Hope House, his talk with Miss Andrews, his visit with his friend, the incident of Harris and his offer were not evidence of his insensibility to that resolute on her part to refuse his choice of life work. It was only characteristic of him to go straight on with the details of his life no matter what occurred. John Gordon was the last man in the world to withdraw into a sullen or moody isolation on account of great private trouble or sorrow.

But he longed for sympathetic counsel. And his impulsive outcry simply voiced another fact of his nature, the fact of his affectionate trust in friendship, a trust that kept no event secret that a friend might wish to know and share.

David Barton sat up and exclaimed
sharply:
"Do you mean to say that Miss Marsh refuses to live with you in Hope House?"
"She does refuse, but I did not give her time, I am afraid, to give her reasons."

"Time for reasons! How much time does she want?" Barton went on savagely.
"Hope House is not good enough for her, eh? She is not willing to go with the man who loves her into such a burden bearing life! She loves her nice, clean, soft, easy, social position more than she loves the man! No,
I tell you," Barton silenced his friend, who made a gesture of dissent. "The girls of this age are not like those of our fathers. They are not willing to begin in a small, economical way and share their husbands' privations. They want big, expensive establishments right off. They have no idea of any sort of life except one of luxury and social successes. To my mind, you're well rid of her!"

"No, no, David! Not that! I ought not to have made such a test. You do not know her as I do."

FOR WOMEN
Much That Every Woman
Desires to Know
About Sanative Antiseptic
Cleansing
And About Curing Ulcerative
Pains and Weaknesses.

Too much stress cannot be placed on the great value of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills in the antiseptic cleansing of the mucous surfaces and of the blood and circulating fluids, thus affording pure, sweet and economical local and constitutional treatment for weakening discharges, ulcerations, inflammations, itchings, irritations, relaxations, displacements, pains and irregularities peculiar to females. Hence the Cuticura remedies have a wonderful influence in restoring health, strength and beauty to weary women, who have been prematurely aged and invalid by these distressing ailments, as well as such sympathetic afflictions as anemia, chlorosis, hysteria, nervousness and debility.

Women from the very first have fully appreciated the purity and sweetness,
the power to afford immediate relief,
the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy which have made the Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills the standard skin cures and humor remedies of the civilized world.

Millions of the world's best people
use Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, for cleansing
the scalp of crusts, scales and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening and soothing red, rough and sore hands, in the form of baths for annoying irritations, inflamma-tions and ulcerative weaknesses, and for many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves, as well as for all the purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery.

Even if hard coal costs $10 per ton it would be cheaper for you in the Favorite Base Burner than $6 coal in other makes. This is a positive fact and Scott, the stove dealer, will prove it to you or refund your money. It beats using soft coal at any price.

It beats using gas and we all know about using gas in zero weather.

All people have been more or less worried on the fuel subject. The Favorite Base Burner will positively settle your worry in the most satisfactory and economical way.

GREAT SUCCESS

RED MEN'S MINSTREL HUGELY ENJOYED—MAY GO TO MAYFIELD.

The Red Men's jubilee minstrel was a success both financially and otherwise. Last night the hall was again packed to the overflowing by those eager to see the show, and not a one went away disappointed.

The costumes, which had been sidetracked on the road, arrived and were used last night. The men showed up better and the performance went off with more smoothness than the night before, and as a whole the performance might be termed perfect.

The Red Men expect to clear about $300 after all expenses have been paid. The lodge went to some expense in setting up the stage and securing the chairs, etc., but the ticket sale was large and many who bought tickets did not get to attend. The committee will meet tonight and make all settlement and will decide whether or not to repeat the show or take it to Mayfield. There is some talk of the latter and many are in favor of going to Mayfield.

WITH THE SICK.

Mr. Pete Rogers, the police commissioner, is better today, his many friends will be pleased to learn.

Councilman W. P. Hummel, who has been ill of rheumatism, is better today and will be able to be at his office by Monday.

Mr. John Krentzer's condition today is better, his many friends will be pleased to learn. He was worse yesterday, but has since shown much improvement.
